

Award Application for Applying for Outside Fellowships

The Cancer Biology Graduate Program will consider applications for a once-per-academic-year award to students who compete for prestigious externally-funded fellowships. Students are eligible for a $500 award if the external fellowship is offered from a national or international agency or institution, with awards being determined through a competitive (i.e. peer-reviewed) process. This award is open only to Cancer Biology graduate students, and is limited to current CBGP funding.

Students should submit a copy of the external fellowship application along with this completed form, to cancerbio@karmanos.org, or the CB office at 421 E. Canfield Street, Suite 3217.
